

PUBLIC LEDGER

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1897.
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER—1899.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1907.

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

ON MEMORIAL DAY.

To honor Past, O Nation,
To thy Future to be true;
The longer line of the children
Leads the shorter line of the Blue.
The Past—the man and the musket;
The Present—the child and the school;
The Future—a holier people,
And they who obey shall rule.
Fear not for thy flag or thy freedom,
While the hearts of the homes are true;
The lengthening line of the children
Cheers the shortening line of the Blue.
—R. P. D. Thompson, Maysville, Ky.

There is craze on the kitchen door at the New Central. The familiar swagger and queer antics of old Goebel as he held forth in the office lobby will be seen no more, having passed in his checks and gone to the happy shores of the dog spirit land.

A DEATH TRAP

On Sutton Street—Burned Buildings a Menace to Passers By and the Public

THE LEDGER on several occasions has called attention to the dangerous condition of the burned buildings on the West side of Sutton, North of Second street. The tottering walls have been a constant menace to human life for the past seven months, and left as they are now standing it will only be a question of time until some person is killed.

Last night the flooring gave way and tumbled down with a terrible crash, alarming the neighborhood and attracting a crowd of a hundred people to the spot. Only five minutes before a lady resident of Front street had passed the dangerous spot.

If something is not done immediately looking to the razing of the overhanging walls it will be criminal negligence both on the part of the city officials as well as the owners of the property. Further delay should not be tolerated.

MILLERS IN SESSION

Only a Social Meeting But Discussion Was of Much Interest

There was an important meeting of millers and grain dealers held in the parlor of the New Central Hotel in this city yesterday afternoon. The purport of the gathering is said to have been merely a social one, the interchanging of opinions and a closer understanding in business relationship.

Those with whom The Ledger Scribe talked disclaimed any intention of the formation of an Association for the controlling of prices in grain, or any kind of a combination whereby restriction of trade is in evidence. It was simply as stated above, a social meeting and nothing more.

The session was well attended and representatives from various parts of the state were present. Among the number were W. T. Dougherty of Nepton, James Irvin of Washington, John T. Logan, Secretary of Kentucky Millers' Association, Thomas Corlis, Brooksville, D. L. Hunter, Washington, C. A. Wuert, Cincinnati, W. J. Kennedy, Carlisle, A. D. Keith and L. H. Hall, Sardis, J. P. The Fiscal Court of a county, under a decision of the Court of Appeals, may not grant the right to lay oil or gas mains along the public roads without permission from the owners in fee of the land through which the road runs. It is held that the roads are not on the same basis as the streets of a city, and the property-owners do not surrender their rights when they deed the land for public purpose of travel.

BIRD MUSIC

One Thousand Samples Written in Popular Form by Government Official

Some two years ago the American Farmer contained an article on "The Music of Nature," which attracted much attention from those of our readers who are musically inclined. It explained how all the sounds of nature, those from domestic animals, birds, insects and everything alive, could be set to music by the composer, as each sound represented a note or tone in the diatonic scale.

Now we learn that Henry Oldys, assistant biologist in the Department of Agriculture, has 1,000 samples of bird music written in popular form, so that it is possible for the human voice exactly to imitate the songsters of the field and forest. He has recorded the actual tones, setting them in the proper musical key, and their reproduction is easy for anybody who can read musical symbols.

Mr. Oldys has been gathering bird language for thirteen years, and his work is a unique contribution to the most pleasing and popular of the arts.

MISTAKE WAS THE WIFE'S.

Charge Against Husband Made Without Due Thought.

James McCrea, the new president of the Pennsylvania railroad, said in an interview in Pittsburgh, apropos of a false charge against a financial institution: "This charge was more than refuted. The institution came out with flying colors. It reminds me of an incident that happened when I was a rodmán in my youth. Working on the Connellsville line, I took a number of meals with a middle-aged farmer and his wife. One day at dinner I noticed that the farmer's wife seemed rather out of sorts, and after dinner I wasn't surprised to hear her say: 'Josiah Simmons, to think that you have forgotten that this is the anniversary of our wedding!' Old Josiah flushed guiltily, looking up from his paper with a start. Then he frowned and said in a surprised voice: 'Why, mother, you must be mistaken. We were married on the eighth.' The wife bit her lip. 'Oh, excuse me,' she said. 'I was thinking of my first marriage anniversary.'"

DUE TO GIFT OF SPEECH.

Many and Various Are the "Benefits," Says Writer in Puck.

The gift of speech is the last proof of divine favor, in virtue of which mankind has the rest of the animal kingdom faded, and stands in a class by himself. Some beasts are stronger than men, and some know more, but no beast can be such a bore as a man, nor can any beast slop over, in the true sense of the term. These distinctions we owe to the gift of speech. The gift of speech, moreover, lays us under compulsion to read a great many things which otherwise we would not, in order that when we have nothing to say, we may nevertheless say something. Thus we promote the publishing business, create a demand for wood-pulp, assist in the deforestation of the earth's surface, stir up a new school of kickers, increase discontent and contribute, at length, to progress and petulance. Our ancestors used to consider speech a means of concealing thought, but we have nothing to conceal.—Puck.

The Coward in Us All.

One little sentence written by V. V. V. in the Sphere stabs one rather poignantly. "I am a coward at heart." There are things that a man suspects about himself but does not say, says a writer in the London Chronicle. For example, you may see a man grinning when he is accused of being a cynic, but one has not heard a man saying calmly and seriously, "I am a bit of a snob." Snobism is not a vice for the public confessional. You may accuse a man of being a "Lothario" and he will be pleased. If you call him a coward—it is a challenge. Yet there is always the snapping point. And V. V. V. shows his courage in confessing the universal failure of civilized man, "I am a coward at heart."

Parable with a Sting.

Bart Kennedy, the English novelist and sociologist, in the course of a bitter attack on the senate, said in Washington: "The senate is true to the American people. Oh, yes; very true to them. Very true indeed. Whenever I think how true the senate is to the people the case of Mary Miles comes into my mind. Mary's husband was a soldier. A soldier out in India, fighting for his king. And one day a friend said to Mary: 'Mary, are your thoughts always true to Charlie, away out there, fighting the hill tribes?' 'Yes, indeed, they are,' Mary answered. 'Whenever a man kisses me I shut my eyes and try to think it's Charlie.'"—Chicago Chronicle.

Much Money Awaits Heirs.

A will dated 1745 and deposited in the Bank of England has just been discovered in that establishment. The testator left his property—worth $25,000—to a family named Windel, living in Fuerstenburg, a village near Baden. During all the years that the will was forgotten the money has been increasing at compound interest and the sum is now $7,250,000. People at Fuerstenburg bearing the name of Windel have heard of the matter and have sent agents to London with papers that, they contend, show their descent from the Windel family named in the will.

"He Who Keepeth His Tongue."

An old fashioned minister was visiting his son in New York recently, and was taken to a fashionable church for the Sunday morning service. The pastor is a young man of great culture, but evidently his oratorical efforts did not greatly impress the visitor, for when they were walking homeward the son remarked approvingly: "That was a good sermon, an excellent sermon. The congregation like Dr. Blank very much." "Yes, a good sermon undoubtedly," his father replied. "It could not possibly have touched a sore spot anywhere."

Infection From a Glass Vase.

The authorities of the Royal museum at Dresden have discovered a glass vase in one of their showcases, dating from the eighteenth century, which shows every sign of suffering from a wasting disease, and not only is it wasting away but the authorities declare it has infected the other glass vessels in its immediate neighborhood. The vase has been carefully examined by experts and various medicines, externally applied, have been prescribed to stay the progress of the malady, but all to no purpose.

is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value. This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

Mrs. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I wish every suffering woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others."

When women are troubled with Irregularities, Displacements, Ulceration, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case.

HEALTH OF WOMEN

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress every power of woman is strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever. In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weaknesses and disease, and their knowledge of roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today.

It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

When women are troubled with Irregularities, Displacements, Ulceration, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Interesting Lecture of Prof. R. M. Allen at the Christian Church

Prof. R. M. Allen, who has charge of the Government Experimental Station at Lexington, lectured last evening at the Christian Church in the interest of the Pure Food Law of Kentucky.

Prof. Allen is a very entertaining speaker. He spoke of the various frauds practiced on the people in the sale of preserved goods, syrups, extracts, etc., and the work the Commission was doing to have products properly labeled.

Prof. Allen, in company with Dr. Adamson, visited the several dairies near Maysville yesterday, and with only a few slight exceptions found the places and the herds of cows in tip-top condition. The lecture was very interesting and the medical fraternity especially was well represented.

At Low Water Mark of Ohio River For Seven Hundred Miles Is Boundary of Kentucky

Under a decision of the Court of Appeals, no grant to the bed of the Ohio river may be recorded, as the state has never provided for the occupation of the river bed as public land.

The Court says the General Assembly may provide for the occupation of the land, however, if it sees fit, and may grant the right to the sand and minerals which may be found between the center of the stream and low water mark.

It defines the boundaries of Kentucky as the Northern low water mark.

The case before the Court was that of Mrs. Fanny Ware of Newport, who claimed that her land bordering on the Ohio river extended to low water mark on the Ohio side.

The Court decides that the land lying in the bed of the river belongs exclusively to the state of Kentucky.

Ninety of Kentucky's 119 counties are now dry counties.

GOOD NEWS.

Many Maysville Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Maysville are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy.

Here is an example worth reading: John Wallingford, living at the corner of Commerce and East Second streets, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I first procured Doan's Kidney Pills in 1899 and they stopped an attack of backache which had annoyed me for some time. My wife at that time gave for publication in our local paper a statement telling of the great benefit I had derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, and now, some five years later, I can say that the cure then effected has been complete and permanent. My back and kidneys have never given me the least cause for complaint. Mrs. Wallingford also appreciates the value of Doan's Kidney Pills from personal experience with them. She suffered most acutely with backache, especially at night, and Doan's Kidney Pills promptly and thoroughly cured her."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
